Brighton-based agency Vivid Event Group has expanded its team with event operations manager Kelly Stewart.

Kelly Stewart will be responsible for the end-to-end delivery of events, working closely with the client relationship team. She has experience delivering the TEDx Brixton productions, as well as working on popular festivals, including Secret Garden Party and Brighton's Pride Festival.

Speaking about the appointment, company director Rachel Hepburn, said: "We're thrilled to welcome Stewart into the fold. Her experience will be a great asset to the business, bringing a complementary dimension to our offering, with her background specialising in both corporate and community-based events."
